FROM

MAJOR T. H. ST. GEORGE TUCKER,
FIRST ASSISTANT TO THE RESIDENT IN MYSORE

TO

The Secretary to the Government of,
H. H. the Maharaja of Mysore,
Depts. of Education & Agriculture.

Dated Bangalore, 27th March 1917

SIR,

I am directed to address you regarding the compilation of a list of scientific periodicals in public libraries and in libraries attached to colleges and other important institutions.

2. The question of Co-ordinating the resorces of existing libraries in India was considered by the libraries Sub-committee of the Board of Scientific Advice at a meeting of the 17th May 1916. It was considered that as a preliminary to any action it is essential to have a list of available scientific periodicals and that the Government of India should be asked to obtain this information.

3. In order to facilitate the collection of the required information, a printed form with instructions has been received from the Government of India,

R. O. 2—R. P. B.—1—1917.—1,000.

17 18

4. I am to enclose a copy of this form and instructions, and at the instance of the Government of India, if there is no objection, similar information may be kindly collected from scientific libraries of substantial importance which may be maintained by the Durbar and to furnish to this Residency.

I have the homour to be,

Sir,

Your most obedient servant,

J. Sr. G. Lucas.

First Assistant Resident.

Appendix A.

The names of the periodicals together with the other information regarding them should be filled in upon the annexed forms, a separate printed slip being used for each periodical. It is requested that the following instructions be observed.

By a periodical is meant a publication issued in parts or volumes appearing at definite or indefinite periods, but without any termination in view. Thus the catalogue of a library or scientific collection or the report of a scientific expedition, separately published, is not a periodical, because it is proposed to terminate its publication in a definite number of parts, or when a definite piece of work has been achieved.

The information required is limited to scientific periodicals by which is meant periodicals dealing with the following subjects—Mathematical and Physical Science (including Astronomy and Meteorology), Archæology (including Epigraphy and Numismatics), Chemistry (including Technical Chemistry), Geology (including Palæontology, Mineralogy and Mining), Zoology, Geography, Economic Science and Statistics, Engineering, Anthropology (including Ethnology), Physiology, Botany, Education, Agriculture, General Science and Medical and Sanitary Sciences (including Experimental Phychology). As regards the standards of a serial publication on, for instance, geography, only such periodicals should be included as would be likely to be required by a serious student of the subject. But in cases of doubt it will be better to include any periodical which appears to stand upon the border line.

It is not worth while to make an entry in the proposed catalogue in cases in which less than a complete volume of any periodical is represented in a library.

In filling in details attention should be paid to the following points :—

Column I.—Publications should be entered under the following headings, no notice being taken in the case of Africa, Asia, or Australasia of the actual political state in which the periodical is issued :—

Austria-Hungary.	Spain and Portugal.
Balkan States.	Switzerland.
Belgium.	Turkey.
France.	Africa.
Germany.	Asia.
Great Britain and Ireland.	Australasia.
Greece.	Canada.
Holland.	United States.
Italy.	South and Central America and West Indies.
Russia.
Scandinavia { Denmark. Norway. Sweden.	International.

Column II.—Here the town of publication indicated on the title-page of each serial should be inserted. In exceptional cases, in which the town of publication of the serial has been changed during its issue, the names of the two towns should be entered. After each name the numbers of the volumes issued from that town and their dates should be separately stated.

Column III.—The full and unabbreviated name of the serial, as printed on its title-page, is to be entered here. When the name of a publication has been changed during its issue, the fact should be noted. After the original title the new title should be added with the words "continued as" inserted between them. The numbers of the volumes and their dates should be entered in the succeeding columns separately under each title.

Column IV.—It is the custom in certain publications (e. g., the Ann. Mag. Nat. Hist.) to start a new "Series," either as soon as a definite number of volumes has been completed, or at more indefinite periods. In such cases the number of the series entered on the title-page should be given in this column. When no number is assigned to the Series on the title-page, but some such phrase as "New Series" takes its place, that phrase should be inserted here.

Column V.—When the publication is still regularly received in the library, only the number of the oldest available volume, followed by a dash, need be given. In rare cases two volume-numbers are given on title-page of each issue of a periodical; one of these may represent the actual number of volumes issued since the periodical was founded, while the other represents the number issued since the series was changed. In these cases both volume-numbers should be entered in Column V, those indicating the positions of the volumes in each series being inserted opposite the appropriate series number in Column IV.

Column VI.—When the publication is still being regularly received in the library, only the date of the oldest available volume, followed by a dash, need be given. The entries in this column should be those of the dates given at the foot of the title-pages of the volumes and should correspond with the entries in Column V. In cases where the publication consists of a series of reports for definite years, the dates of these years will in most cases not be the dates of publication. They form in fact part of the title and should be entered in Column III.

Columns VII-IX.—The importance of entering particulars of parts and volumes missing from a series can hardly be overestimated. It is hoped that reliance will not be placed solely on library catalogues, but that corroboration will be obtained by actual scrutiny of the volumes themselves.

Particulars of index volumes should be written across the bottom of each slip; in doing this the vertical columns may be disregarded.

A statement is requested of the facilities which you are prepared to grant to serious inquirers who may desire to consult any periodical in your library.

It is intended to give details of these facilities in the preface to any catalogue which may subsequently be published.

I	II	III	IV	V	VI	VII	VIII	IX	X
Place of publication.						Missing.
Country.	Town.	Name of serial in full.	No. or title of series (if any).	Volumes.	Dates.	Part.	Volume.	Date.	Name of library.

A separate slip should be used for particulars of each periodical.

To

The Secretary to Government,

Departments of Education and Agriculture,

Sir,

With reference to your letter No.5000/Edn.1-16 dated the 26th November 1917, calling for a list of scientific periodicals available in the libraries attached to any of the institutions or offices of the Public Works Department, I have the honour to state that the Mysore Engineers' Association is the only institution which gets scientific periodicals. The honorary Secretary of the Association was addressed in the matter and a copy of the reply received from him (letter No.544 dated 6th December 1917) is herewith forwarded for information.

I have the honour to be,

Sir,

Your most obedient servant,

For Chief Engineer of Mysore.

S.S.

Letter No.544 dated the 6th December 1917 from the Honorary Secretary, Mysore Engineers' Association, Bangalore to the Chief Engineer of Mysore.

With reference to your No.12750 dated the 30th ultimo, I have the honour to reply that the Association has been getting periodicals only for the purpose of circulation and not for the purpose of compiling them into volumes for preservation. Many of them sent out for circulation do not come back and of those that come back many are returned in a torn condition so much so that none of those that are in the Library can be compiled into a volume to bring them within the purview of the circular under reply.

As under the above circumstances, those that are in the Library at present are incomplete and as such unfit for being compiled into full volumes, I ~~can~~ am retransmitting the enclosures that accompanied the reference under reply without making any entry.
